School in pace with 'revolution'

NEW LENOX — In just the past 27 years our fast-paced world has raced into three of the most exciting eras that history has ever known.

The first era started in 1945, when the world witnesses the horror and hope of the atomic age. In 1955 space exploration jolted the atomic age to make way for the space age. Then about 1965 the world suddenly became aware of the rapidly exploding populations around the globe and the spectre of mass starvation and resource depletion. This was the dawn of the "Green Revolution."

During the next 30 years it is claimed populations will increase more than they have in all previous centuries of mankind. Food, or lack of it, will dominate our thinking. American agriculture is one of the most fantastic production and marketing complexes the world knows.

This $300-billion a year giant industry employs 4.5 million people. American agriculture stands ready to meet the challenges of the Green Revolution, but in order to accomplish the task, it needs the ideas, skills, enthusiasm and dedication of trained young people.

The Agricultural Occupations Department at Lincoln-Way High School is dedicated to helping American agriculture meet the challenges of the Green Revolution by educating the young people it needs. Through the employment of an expanded curriculum which includes four instructors teaching 19 courses, the Agricultural Occupations Program at Lincoln-Way is well suited to meeting the needs of the students and the community.

The wide scope of curriculum includes instruction in greenhouse management, landscaping, environmental conservation, land use and planning, plant physiology, welding, engine repair and maintenance, woodworking, electrical wiring, concrete work, equitation and veterinary occupations.

The horticultural phase of the program is taught by Roger Ross. Here the students receive training in the principles of landscaping, turf and nursery management and plant propagation, plant identification and selection and greenhouse management.

This year the agricultural department is cooperating with Boyd Gillian and using a 20' x 60' portion of his greenhouse. This outstanding community cooperation is allowing the horticulture students to experience first hand the problems of greenhouse management.

Ken Jorstad teaches the horse and small animal science classes as well as pre-veterinary occupations course. These courses present to the students the principles of proper animal nutrition, sanitation and genetics. The elements of equitation are covered as well. These courses are aimed at giving the student the skills needed to be a good animal health technician.

Agricultural mechanics, a large phase of the program, is taught by Paul Windish. Here the students receive instructions on engine repair and maintenance, hydraulics, electrical systems, advanced welding techniques and construction principles in advanced mechanics courses. In the beginning course, the students are taught the basic skills of electricity, welding, surveying and woodworking.

In the newest phase of the program, Ron Olson teaches courses on resource conservation and environmental awareness. The students are given in-depth study to the environmental threats that face man, they are then given a chance to involve themselves in improving the environmental situation by joining various environmental and conservation groups.

A year ago these students helped form the Lincoln-Way Recycling Group, made up of area young people, teachers and citizens working together on solid waste disposal.

Learning by doing is the best way for anyone to learn skills and the agriculture students have that chance to apply what they learn in class on the school's 50-acre land laboratory and 15-acre conservation area. The land laboratory includes experimental plots of corn and soybeans, as well as weed control plots. The conservation area allows for the study of natural vegetation, and wildlife, pond management and forestation practices.

Agriculture needs leadership and the FFA (Future Farmers of America) offers students the chance to gain invaluable leadership experiences. The successful operation of the total Agricultural Occupations Program involves a community effort. Knowledgeable resource people in the community have added depth and perspective by their involvement in the classroom situation. Also a 12-man advisory council, composed of agricultural businessmen and farmers, asking for a donation of $15 per living unit.

The schools, the Frankfort Elementary, and Lincoln-Way High, ask either sites or cash, based on a formula that has been worked out, school officials say, to put the program on a fair and equitable basis.

The principal reason behind the requests, it was brought out, is to compensate for the tax lag, which may run from 18 months to two years.

Subdivisions are built, people move in and the demand for services is immediate, although they will not be paying for such services in taxes for approximately two years, it was pointed out.

Some subdivisions, it was granted, fill the air with sobs and lamentations at paying anything in advance but actually it really isn't anything coming out of their pockets, it was said. They merely pass it on to the buyer or renter of the living unit as all improvements are, it was pointed out.

Manhattan, New Lenox and Mokena have adopted similar ordinances.

Good news! Bills mailed earlier than anticipated

JOLIET — It looks like tax bills will be out a little earlier than was expected a couple of weeks ago. Latest information was that the bills would be in the mail by the end of this week or the first of next.

Will County Treasurer Kent Bosworth will have deputy collectors in the outlying areas for the convenience of those residing out of the Joliet area. For the most part these deputies are former town collectors.

The office of town collector has been discontinued and the county treasurer serves as collector the entire year. Previously the town collectors could accept payment up to June 1 and after that date the county treasurer took over.

Taxes may be paid as soon as the bills are received and there are many of the taxing bodies now existing on borrowed money. The districts hope many of the taxpayers will pay early.

The county board has fixed Dec. 15 as the deadline for tax payments and the entire lot, personal and real estate tax bills, must be paid by that date. Bills paid after that date will cost more as penalties will then be assessed.

This was a quadrennial year—so called because every four years the law decrees that all real estate be reassessed. The state Department of Local Government Affairs (formerly the State Department of Revenue) ordered that all real estate be assessed at 50 percent of the fair market value for a county to get a multiplier of one. A multiplier of one means that the assessed valuation is the equalized valuation and is the amount on which the tax bills are made.

Will County hired Oren Pomeroy, Jr., as supervisor of assessments, in 1970 under a four-year contract. At a meeting of the county board last Friday Democrat members urged that Pomeroy be fired but Board Chairman Roy F. Hassett, DuPage Township, called such a motion out of order. He said he could not allow the board to be put in a position that could provoke a lawsuit. On a vote Hassett's ruling was upheld.

There were 10 people from Lockport present who applauded the motion to fire Pomeroy and one of them, Albert J. Faser, invited the board and all interested citizens to attend a meeting at Romeoville High School tonight, Oct. 25, to discuss the tax situation.

Some of the Republican members, John Oster, of New Lenox; Jerome Paddock, of Homer; and Vernon Drecksler, of Will Township, agreed that "Pomeroy made mistakes but the local assessors did too" and to attempt to shoulder the blame on one man was unfair.

Wilmington Supervisor Robert Weidling said, that the board had to take part of the blame, adding that it had not always given Pomeroy the help and cooperation he needed. He also said he knew that some local assessors did not perform their duties properly.

"A lot of town boards," Weidling said, "have failed to provide the assessors with funds for them to do a good job."

He said that 18 years ago the state threatened to take over the job and he wasn't sure but what it might still go for a state supervisor of assessments and leave local areas with no voice in the process.

Frankfort chamber to elect 4 directors

FRANKFORT — Four directors will be elected to serve a two year term on the board of the Frankfort Chamber of Commerce. The ballot, carrying seven names, from which four will be picked according to the number of votes, will be mailed before Nov. 10, it was announced. The directors name the officers. The new board and officers will be announced at the Dec. 7 meeting and Christmas party to be held at Prestwick Country Club.

The nominating committee is made up of, George Gordon, Jack Rohats, Phillip Pasarella, Leonard Patterson and Ralph Show, with assistance by the Chamber president, Herman Fabiani. This committee will meet after Oct. 25 to draw up the ballot for mailing.

State okays funds For new junior high

ARBURY HILLS — Supt. Aldo Fanti reported to the Summit Hill Board of Education last week that the State's Capitol Development Board has granted its approval to District 161 request for $666,000.00 to finance the construction of a new junior high school.

A referendum is scheduled to be presented for voter approval on Saturday, Nov. 4, from noon to 7 p.m. at the two regular polling places, the Ann Rutledge School and the Arbury Hills School.

The funding, which would be granted interest-free, would be repayable over a period of 16 and two-thirds years, at approximately $40,000.00 per year. Residents whose homes have an assessed valuation of $10,000 would pay an estimated $27.00 on the referendum the first year, according to Supt. Fanti.

If voter approval is given, the new school will be built on a 16.9 acre site in the northwest corner of the Frankfort Square Development (Part II). The site is one of three in unincorporated Will County donated by the Hoffman - Rosner Corporation to the school district.

Construction of a new junior high school would allow for the expansion of the educational program now in effect, including home economics courses for girls and special interest programs for the boys.

The school would be developed to a potential capacity of 280 students, with an average of 28 children in each of ten classrooms. With an additional school and a gain in population figures, an increase in school personnel, faculty members in particular, is also expected.

With immediate approval of the referendum, the building could be completed by September, 1974.

According to Supt. Fanti, the need for the school is "imminent and apparent". The building would alleviate overcrowding at Arbury Hills and provide the necessary facilities for grades six, seven and eight district-wide, with its anticipated growth.

"This is a decision you must make. It will affect your children and the children coming into the district. It also will affect the district's future. Keep in mind that the fourth, fifth and sixth graders will be in sixth, seventh and eighth grades in September, 1974," the superintendent said.

"We know this is a concern. We know, too, your past record in regards to school. We are doing our best to provide your children with the very best education possible. We must provide the program; you must provide the facilities," he concluded.

Park board seeks opinions

FRANKFORT — When the Frankfort Park Board embarks on a program of what to do with the district properties it will have a pattern to follow that is laid down by the residents.

A six-page questionnaire circulated among the people, young and old, is now coming in for evaluation. Big Farmer magazine, a Frankfort publishing firm, gave the park board assistance in preparing the questionnaires for computerization, and when all the returns are in they will be run through a computer to arrive at the results.

An interests-and-attitude survey, it's what the program was called. People were asked what they wanted in their parks and for what use did they want the properties used.

Approximately 700 questionnaires were circulated. Some went to students from grades seven through 12 and the others went to adults.

The survey will be used by the park board to formulate a "Comprehensive Plan for Parks and Recreation."

The park board is also making use of the services of Rolf Campbell and Associates, professional planners.

Ronald Olson, of the agriculture department at Lincoln-Way High, a member of the Frankfort Park Board is one of the leaders in the planning program.

Frankfort wants builders to pay

FRANKFORT — A proposed ordinance which would require developers of property within the jurisdiction of the Frankfort village board to contribute cash or land to schools, the Frankfort Park Districts and the Frankfort Public Library, has been approved by the village zoning board of appeals and sent on to the village trustees with a recommendation for passage.

The next meeting of the village board will be Monday, Nov. 6. The park district is asking 5.5 acres per 1,000 persons for recreation purposes and the library is

Central's staff in institute day

TINLEY PARK — Administrators, staff and faculty members from Central Junior High School, Tinley Park, participated in one of two major institute days scheduled for School District 146 in 1972-73, Oct. 16.

Charles E. Barth, principal, arranged the full days schedule which included visits to junior high schools in Chicago, Crystal Lake, Downers Grove, Elmhurst and Matteson.

In ten groups, Barth, Martin Ozinga, assistant principal, Miss Jeanne Sweeney, learning center director, Arthur Bechmann, band director, and George Watkins, counselor, observed innovative techniques being attempted in other junior high schools by way of lectures discussions and actual class visitations.

In the near future, Barth and staff members will arrange group discussions and evaluations to determine the value of the days seminar and probably improvisations to the present programs at Central.

Central's art department was represented at the institute by John Farrell and Mrs. Martin Hertko, who is also a math teacher. Other representatives at the institute were: Miss Carolyn Bechly, health and physical education, Jerry Marszalek, health and physical education and science; Martin Ozinga; and Mrs. James G. Cheney, Mrs. James Gardner, Mrs. Marvin Gonsiorowski, Miss Mary Goworowski, James Hisler, Mrs. Michael J. Keogh, Mrs. Harry Mech and Mrs. Stephen R. Rinaldi, all language art teachers. Mrs.

Cheney and Mrs. Rinaldi also teach French and Spanish to seventh and eighth grade students.

From the math department were: Mrs. Jack Ciesla, Mrs. John L. Matras, Terry Miller and Mrs. Russell Wegner, who is also a science teacher.

Science department representatives attending the institute were: Mrs. Richard Fleck, Mrs. F. Charles Tutt and John Obenland, who is also director of the school planetarium.

The social science department was represented by Louis J. Broccoli, James Kasal, Mrs. John R. Troutman and Gerald Trumble.

Seven new teachers have joined the teaching staff at Central this year. They are: Miss Carolyn Bechly, a graduate of the University of Illinois with a bachelor of science degree in physical education and minor in health education. John Farrell, a Northern Illinois University graduate, holds a bachelor of science degree in education.

Mrs. James Gardner is a Northern Illinois English major with a minor in sociology. Miss Mary Goworowski graduated from Illinois Southern University, and holds a degree in English, with a minor in Spanish.

On stuffing the ballot box

It's McGovern in a landslide

We have decided to discontinue our poll of voter preferences in the races for President, U.S. senator, Illinois governor, secretary of state and attorney general.

Crescent Newspapers began its political survey earlier this month to determine from and present to our readers a general picture of the comparative attitudes of voters in the suburbs we serve.

The third week's results, however, merely repeat a "trend" that developed in the second week — one that is so far contrary to more comprehensive polls that we feel there is little purpose to be served by continuing in this effort.

For example, while the Chicago Sun-Times' widely respected straw poll shows President Nixon leading Sen. McGovern in the Chicago suburbs by a 75-25 margin, our survey shows McGovern in the lead, 56.4 to 43.6 per cent.

In the Illinois gubernatorial race Gov. Ogilvie leads in the Sun-Times straw poll of the suburbs, 61.8-38.2, and in the Chicago Tribune poll by a 56-29 margin. Our poll shows Dan Walker leading the governor, 53.1 to 46.9.

We wish we could say that perhaps we have uncovered a ground swell turn of the tide, but common sense tells otherwise.

The simple fact is that our ballot box has been stuffed.

The Crescent political survey was designed in hopes that we would get a relevant sampling of suburban voter opinion in key races. What we received, however, is perhaps a tribute to the industry and devotion of organized followers of particular candidates.

Poring over the envelopes we received and leafing through the ballots contained therein, we found so many instances of multiple votes, despite attempts to disguise the sources, that it became apparent our poll was being manipulated.

One more blatant example was 78 ballots, all of them headed by votes for Sen. McGovern, in identical envelopes with identical metered postage marks.

There is difference of opinion on the effect of loaded polls. Some say that undecided voters will tend to side with the apparent leader. Others maintain that followers of lagging candidates will work harder up through election day.

Regardless of the psychology, however, we feel it would be a disservice to continue to report our poll results.

For the record, the following is the cumulative result of three weeks of returns from some 50 communities in the suburban area from Hanover Township in the northwest, through DuPage and Will Counties, to Park Forest in the south:

For President: Democratic challenger, Sen. George McGovern, leads incumbent President Nixon (R), 56.4 to 43.6 per cent.

For U.S. Senator: Incumbent Sen. Charles Percy (R) leads his rival, Rep. Roman Pucinski (D), 72.5 to 27.5 per cent.

For Governor of Illinois: Dan Walker (D) leads incumbent Gov. Richard Ogilvie (R), 53.1 to 46.9 per cent.

For Illinois Secretary of State: Auditor Michael Howlett (D) leads Republican Edmund Kucharski, 56.8 to 43.2 per cent.

For Illinois Attorney General: Incumbent William Scott (R) leads Democrat Thomas Lyons, 73.9 to 26.1 per cent.

We retire from the political poll game not in dismay from failing to get truly representative results, but, rather, with applause for those who dedicated themselves to using this means of furthering their candidates' places in the limelight.

Editor:

Most parents of school-children seem to believe that "equality of education" means giving all children the same courses.

Teachers in the classroom know "equality of education" is a much more complex problem than that!

A University of Illinois professor once wrote what he thought the problem was, in the following allegory (which he refused to sign on the ground that it would not be good for his public image to circulate anything so frivolous!)

I believe this allegory will be helpful in showing parents the extent and difficulty of the problem.

THE ANIMAL SCHOOL

Once upon a time the animals decided they must do something heroic to meet the problems of a "new world". So they organized a school.

They adopted an activity curriculum consisting of running, climbing, swimming, and flying. To make it easier to administer the curriculum, all the animals took all the subjects.

The duck was excellent in swimming, in fact better than his instructor; but he made only passing grades in flying and was very poor in running. Since he was slow in running he had to stay after school and also drop swimming in order to practice running. This was kept up until his web feet were badly worn and he was only average in swimming. But average was acceptable in school, so nobody worried about that except the ducks.

The rabbit started at the top of class in running, but he had a nervous breakdown because of so much makeup work in swimming.

The squirrel was excellent in climbing until he developed frustration in the flying class, where his teacher made him start from the ground up instead of from the treetop down. He also developed "charlie horses" from overexertion and then got "C" in climbing and "D" in running.

The eagle was a problem child and was disciplined severely. In the climbing class he beat all the others to the top of the tree, but he insisted on using his own way to get there.

At the end of the year an abnormal eel that could swim exceedingly well and also could run, climb and fly a little, had the highest average and was valedictorian.

The prairie dogs stayed out of school and fought the tax levy because the administration would not add digging and burrowing to the curriculum. They apprenticed their child to a badger and later joined the ground hogs and the gophers in order to start a successful private school.

In these times of consumer complaints and the many criticisms directed towards such columns as "Action Express," I would like to commend a company that gave excellent service.

The company I would like to compliment is White-Meyer Wood Products, Inc., Orland Park. Five years ago they made kitchen cabinets for me. When I went to ask if they would give me some contact cement to reglue corners of the veneer that had loosened (probably from the steam from the electric coffeemaker), they suggested that I bring in the doors and they would take care of the repairs. Instead of doing this, they made three new doors; and in just three days the doors were back on the cabinets. Their product is so good that it is impossible to tell which are the five-year old doors and which are the new.

As a member of the Laguna Woods Homeowners Association and a resident of Orland Park Township, my family would like to voice its objection to the Planned Unit Development (PUD) outside the village of Orland Park.

If approved, this development would put a terrific burden on our schools, roads and utilities. We cannot over-emphasize our dissatisfaction and displeasure for this proposal. We live in one family dwellings and feel we are already over-taxed. This proposal would put many more children in our schools and cause increased taxation upon personal property owners.

My family, as well as many others, plan to attend the Re-Zoning Hearing on November 20th, 1972 and make our dissatisfaction known to all.

We want our Southwest Suburban Areas to be a place in which to enjoy life not battle over crowding, traffic snarls, crime and most of all poor schooling for our children. We moved to the suburbs to escape these conditions not to perpetrate them.

We are requesting your consideration and support. It is also wise to remember that voters will always remember where support came from and from where it was refused. We are also united in a just cause and will do everything possible to seek justice for our communities.

Carey endorsement

A chance for integrity

Hanrahan's record in office, not to mention his fiery personality, point to an inability to enforce the law with the impartiality required in a state's attorney.

He charges that Carey has never practiced law and points to his own 17 years of experience as a government lawyer. However, both the Chicago Bar Association and the Chicago Council of Lawyers found Hanrahan unqualified for office in their ratings during the primary election last March.

Hanrahan's indictment for falsifying evidence in the 1969 raid on Black Panther leaders' Fred Hampton and Mark Clark's apartment has put the state's attorney's office in two contradictory roles: those of prosecutor and defendant in the same criminal case.

And his failure to step down from office after his indictment has certainly done nothing to increase public respect for law enforcement.

Hanrahan claims his conviction rate is 92 per cent, while Carey maintains a more accurate figure is 54 per cent. Carey points out that Hanrahan does not include the 2,000 out of 5,000 indictments a year that are dropped because of insufficient evidence before going to trial.

Hanrahan has repeatedly blamed the criminal court's "lenient judges" for permitting criminals to literally get away with murder. But, as Carey points out, Hanrahan has never made a formal complaint against any one of these judges, which is certainly his prerogative, if not his duty.

Lastly, Hanrahan's use (and abuse) of the press to serve his own ends would effectively deter any newspaper from endorsing him. Hanrahan has labled Chicago area papers as "dishonest," has refused to grant interviews to reporters, and has lambasted the press for not printing "his side of the issues" — word for word from his own press releases.

Hanrahan, has had four years to improve the state's attorney's office and, in our estimation, has failed. Bernard Carey has the experience and the integrity to make the office effective in the fight against crime on all levels. We urge our readers to vote for him on Nov. 7.

Newspaper headlines revealing new scandals in Cook County government have become as commonplace as screaming announcements of new crimes of violence. We believe that Bernard Carey, the Republican candidate for Cook County State's attorney, will achieve far more toward restoring public faith in our criminal justice system than Edward V. Hanrahan, the incumbent Democrat.

Carey, 37, has pledged to use the state's attorney's office to root out corruption in county offices, and his experience in criminal investigation as well as his independence of the Democratic machine will help him fulfill this promise.

Carey worked under J. Edgar Hoover as special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation from 1960 to 1965. During this time, he prepared more than 100 cases for trial, all of which resulted in convictions in federal courts. He supervised major criminal investigations in Washington, D.C., Monterey, Calif., and Cleveland, Youngstown and Canton, Ohio. He was recognized by Hoover for his "investigative ingenuity."

In 1966, Carey was appointed undersheriff of Cook County and in 1968, became acting superintendent of Cook County Jail, which he assisted in improving and reorganizing.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie named him assistant director of the Illinois Department of Public Safety in 1969. At Carey's urging, that department was divided into two major departments, the Department of Law Enforcement and the Department of Corrections. Carey was named deputy director of the new Department of Law Enforcement and was responsible for setting up the Illinois Bureau of Investigation (IBI), created to fight organized crime throughout the state.

Carey made a strong showing in his first bid for county-wide office when he ran against Richard Elrod for Cook County Sheriff. He is currently serving as special assistant to Atty. Gen. William J. Scott in charge of prosecuting the state's claims against the estate of the late Paul Powell.

On second thought

It's not the name, it's how it's financed

By Glenn Logan

In an era in which individuals are fast becoming known under first names or numerals it is not surprising that a move is on foot to standardize the labeling of meat cuts.

According to critics our present system is too loose. It seems that if a Vermont woman, for instance, found herself in a butchery in Denver, San Francisco, Birmingham, Ala., or Miami, Fla. She wouldn't know how to ask for her favorite cut of meat because the name probably would be different.

We don't know what happens if she sticks with poultry but imagine a chicken is a chicken, a duck is a duck and a turkey is a turkey wherever you are in these United States.

But now the other meats are going to have to get in line. This has been decreed by no less than the National Live Stock and Meat Board, which has indeed a prestigious sound to it. The reason the Meat Board is getting into the act, according to its president, is that it is to the consumers' and industry's interest to "develop a national system of retail meat cut identification on a voluntary basis."

This implies that Big Brother or one of those zany members of the Congress who will do anything to get his name in the newspapers, are waiting in the wings ready to ram through a law, all complete with forms and penalties. Who knows? Even Ralph Nader might be prevailed upon to sponsor a name-and-know-your meat program.

This piece, in case you wonder how we got onto this subject, had its origin in one of the pages of the Industrial News Review. It intrigued us to learn that a heel of round roast beef rejoices in numerous names such as, Pike's Peak, Diamond, Wedge, Denver Pot-Roast, Gooseneck, Horseshoe and Lower Round. What is the matter with that? Personally I think a chunk of meat by any of those names would probably be more appetizing than to call it the heel of the round.

Having several names for the same cut makes it easier on the housewife really. She doesn't have to think up something new. If she finds a piece of meat she and her husband like she can serve it every day under a different name.

I hope they don't go too far with this. It seems to me that it would be a shame if they turned a porterhouse steak into a number. Then there is the pin bone, the T-bone, the tenderloin, the rib-eye, to mention a few of the more costly cuts. And let's not forget the prime rib roast. What are they going to do — give them numbers or new names. And if they do what is going to remember the new names any better than the old?

I suppose some bureauer at will get the job of concocting names for meat cuts but it seems to me it would be better to sign up someone with a little imagination, like the guy, for instance, who used to name pullman cars.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if there weren't so many people hell-bent on being helpful and allow one to take his chances of buying meat his own way.

The first thing about buying meat, of course, is if you have the cash or are you getting the purchase financed. With that out of the way one doesn't have to know the name of the he wants. He can just point and say, "Give me some of that."

We hope they continue call hams hams and that corned beef remains as such. I can't imagine what else they would call pork chops. According to the Meat Board there have been several states that have enacted laws governing meat names but as far as yours truly knows Illinois is not one of them.

Well, there may be a lot of fancy changes but Jimmy the Greek who is said to offer odds on practically anything, is likely to make them pretty high that hamburger will remain hamburger.

Of course, there are places where one sits at tables and they have cloth napkins, that hamburger sell as Salisbury Steak of chopped steak but up and down the land, north, south, east and west, hamburger is in top demand. If meat and food items become numerals it is not hard to guess what will be 1,2 and 3 — hamburgers, catsup and french fries, with heavy on the catsup.

Editor:

With reference to the re-zoning of 80 acres of land North of 143rd Street, and West of 82nd Ave., Orland Park, Illinois, I would like to go on record of opposing any re-zoning from single family dwellings to high density developments.

Such re-zoning to high density developments would play havoc with our schools, congest our two-lane roads and present horrendous traffic problems in our rural community as well as add flooding and sewage problems. We do not want these additional burdens.

The homeowners in the area are paying exceedingly high real estate taxes, and feel this re-zoning would increase our taxes because of the large number of additional children that would be added to our already overcrowded schools, with 1,916 bedrooms being planned in this development.

We implore you to help us keep this area zoned for single family residence.

Don't "dress to kill" when outfitting the children for Halloween.

Fire-safe costumes, whether purchased ready-to-wear or made at home, can help keep Halloween "a fun time" by saving members of the trick-or-treat set from accidents causing painful burns or even greater tragedy.

According to National Fire Protection Association studies, the greatest Halloween hazard is the clothing fire. Here are some suggestions for helping make Halloween a happy, fire-safe occasion each time Oct. 31 rolls around:

1. Costumes should be labeled "flameproof" or, if made at home, should undergo flameproofing treatment. Even then, remember that flameproofing must be renewed each time a costume is washed or gets wet and that any clothing will burn to some extent.

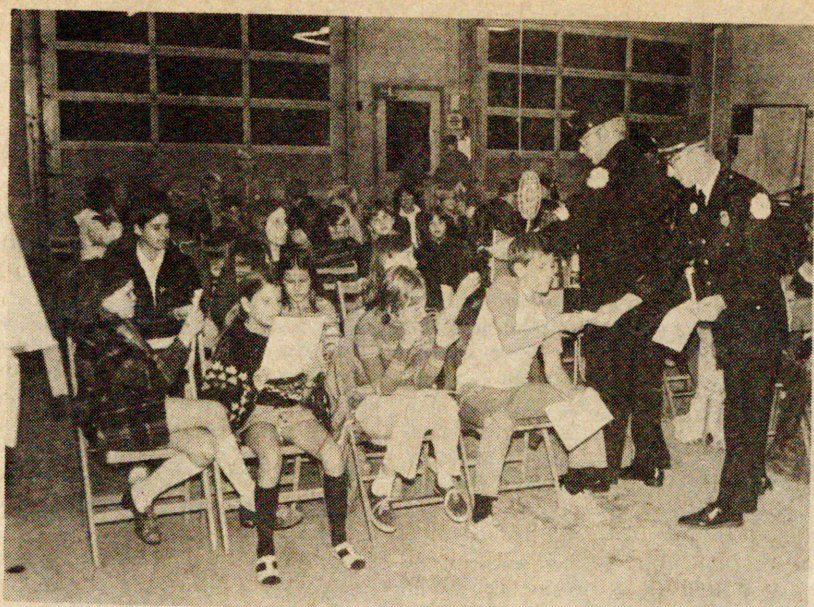

2. Avoid costumes with flimsy fabric, flowing sleeves, huge skirts — especially those traditional billowing robes of ghosts and witches, made of old sheets which easily catch fire when whipped toward flames or sparks by the Autumn wind.

3. Safest disguises are "natural" masks of cosmetic make-up or charcoal applied directly to the skin. Commercial masks, wigs and beards should be marked "flameproof."

4. Use a flashlight — never a lighted candle — to illuminate a pumpkin. Keep children well away from bonfires, fireplaces, sparks and sources of intense heat.

5. Keep Halloween decorations away from lighted candles and light bulbs. Be especially careful with the colorful leaves, corn husks and similar tinder-dry materials used in Autumn displays. Parents are urged to dress the youngsters in costumes light enough so motorists will see them, and short enough so the children won't trip over them. Finally, small children should be in charge of and in sight of a responsible older person at all times during their trick-or-treat fun.

Safety

The second annual Baby Sitting Safety School, sponsored by the Tinley Park Volunteer Fire Department, included the movie "Have a Wonderful Evening" depicting a baby sitter confronted with a fire. Ken Bensema and Lt. Edward Brauer are shown passing out information to the students.

Lincoln-Way debaters return from workshop

NEW LENOX — Representatives of the Lincoln-Way High School debating team are back from a recent workshop in debate sponsored by the Illinois State Debate Union at Homewood-Flossmoor High School.

The Debate Union is an organization of top Illinois high school debate teams and sponsors tournament competition and workshops.

The varsity squad from Lincoln-Way was represented by Miss Susan Brown. Novice debaters participating included Jim Gallaway, Jon Roberts, Jay Homerding, Mike Harms, Paul Johnson, Laure Veltman, Amy Dillon and Pam Lock. Charles Hinthorne, head coach, and Wayne Carroll, assistant coach, lead the group.

The debaters heard a talk by William Snyder, a Chicago lawyer and former Illinois High School and National Collegiate debating champion.

Snyder explained that his debating experience taught him as much about certain academic problems and human behavior as had all his formal course work. The three most important factors in debate, he said, are the research, use of logic and ability to speak well.

The L-W students viewed a demonstration debate on the topic, "Resolved: The Federal Government Should Finance Public Elementary and Secondary Education."

Charges made

ORLAND PARK — Anthony Cartolano, 13941 Citation Drive, rural Orland Park, president of the Melrose Fireworks Display Company which exploded March 6 near Orland Park, was recently indicted by a Cook County grand jury.

The charges were reckless conduct, criminal damage to property, operating an illegal fireworks factory, maintaining illegal storage facilities for explosives and failure to obtain licenses from the State Fire Marshal and the Illinois Dept. of Mines and Minerals.

On one point, Cartolano had said, "There's no such thing as a state license." He continued, "We were in operation for 15 years without re-zoning, but when the County Zoning Board contacted us to re-zone we applied for this change five months before the blast occurred."

State's Attorney Edward Hanrahan had been critical of state officials who had failed to inspect this plant. The Herald spoke with Jack Schmetters Hanrahan's first aide and he said, "They failed to inspect the plant because they didn't know it existed. They certainly should have a plan whereby they check out sources to establish such facts."

At the Cook County Zoning Board, Bernard O'Brien answered the question of why so much time should have elapsed five months before application for re-zoning by Cartolano, and yet no action had been taken in response by the board: "It takes about 90 days from filing to hearing. The board generally waits for a given number of cases from any specific area to move."

James Fares is no longer fair game for anyone to catch on Sadie Hawkins Day. Would you believe that he went and got married last Saturday. No less a fine lass did he hitch onto than the former Miss Susan Scully from Homewood.

They were married in St. Paul Community Church in Homewood and then they held a reception in the Dixie Governor Hotel. New Orleans is the honeymoon spot and what a place to go.

It is rumored that Chester Kozlow of Pheasant Trail reached the half century mark a week or so ago. From all the work, his 50th birthday party was a swinger with about 50 friends and relatives attending.

Miss Diane Bruske, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bruske of Fairway Lane recently took third place honors in the State of Illinois in the National Employ the Handicapped Poster Contest of the Disabled American Veterans. Diane, who is studying in Vienna, was invited to spend a weekend in Chicago and receive her honors at a ceremony in the Sherman House Hotel attended by many national and local dignitaries such as Senator Charles Percy, Mrs. Richard Ogilvie, Attorney General William Scott and Richard J. Daley, Jr. Diane received a $50.00 United States Savings Bond and could have spent the weekend in Chicago as a guest of the contest. Mrs. Bruske accepted the award in her absence.

The Halloween season is here. We noticed yesterday that the paper in the trees was more noticeable, smashed pumpkins in the driveways and a few homes lost their lot markers. Lets hope that the fun does not start too soon and that it remains just that, fun.

This has been the year of the 40's for Sandy and Bill Flynn of Maple Court. Last June, Bill Flynn celebrated 40 years a graduate from law school, 40 years a member of the Illinois bar and just recently, both of the Flynn's celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary with the ever expanding Flynn clan. Nearly 30 members of the family from the Chicago area attended the celebration with clansmen from other states wiring their regards. They have spent a quiet week at home recuperating.

New Lenox

Mrs. Irene C. Peterson has retired as the head librarian of the New Lenox Township Public Library. She started her service with the Library as a volunteer in 1956 when the library was housed in the Hauck Building. Mrs. Peterson joined the regular staff in 1957 and succeeded Mrs. Laura J. Morris as head librarian in 1962. The library was moved to its own building, 115 Church, in 1957.

Many changes have occurred during Mrs. Peterson's tenure with the library. The book collection has grown to over 7,000 volumes. A story hour program for pre-school children and a juvenile summer reading program are now a regular part of the library service. A collection of phonograph records has been added to the library resources.

Mrs. Peterson participated in the formation of the Bur Oak Library System, which is headquartered in Joliet. New Lenox was one of the charter members of the system.

Upon terminating her services, Mrs. Peterson said, "I have enjoyed knowing all the wonderful people who have come to the library and particularly enjoyed working with the children. I will miss them all very much."

Mrs. Peterson and her husband Algot have no definite plans as they enter their retirement. The Peterson's many friends will miss them, but wish them well in their new venture.

NEW LENOX — The Lincoln-Way High School Marching Band, directed by Randolph F. Kummer, won the runner-up trophy in its first competition. The 86-member organization took part in the annual Illinois Wesleyan homecoming parade competition at Bloomington.

The marching Knights, dressed in their basic black uniforms, featuring a striking red, white and gold overlay emblazoned with the school's traditional Knight emblem, drew loud applause along the entire parade route.

Presenting their unique combination of sound and patterns for precision routines, the band gave out their musical calling card, "When the Saints Go Marching In."

The only group to use a special street drill, the Knights featured their now famous "spinning drill" with cascading bows by ranks and ending with a knee dip and salute to the crowd.

"Considering this was our premier performance in competition, we are proud to have been placed so high," Kummer said. "We look to this accomplishment as a solid marching tradition to complement our already established concert reputation."

The marching band is led by Senior Drum Majorette Andra Floyd, three veteran field captains, and twirler Debbie Bartolotta, Illinois state champion and national finalist. The Marching Knights are fronted by the flags of the Southwest Suburban Conference schools.

Their next appearance will be this Saturday, Oct. 28, in conjunction with the annual grade school band day, and will close their season with their final home appearance at the Lincoln-Way and Homewood-Flossmoor football game Nov. 4.

The board would like to fill the vacancy by its Nov. 8 session.

"Anyone aspiring to this important post," a board spokesman said, "should contact the district office at the Arbury Hills School, in person or by telephone by Oct. 25."

"Applications are available at the office. Legal qualifications are that one must be a citizen of the United States, 21 years of age or over, a resident of the state and the district for at least one year immediately preceding the appointment and shall not be a school trustee or school treasurer."

FRANKFORT — Frankfort is getting a new industry, the Fremouw Steel Products, dealing in the fabrication of structural and ornamental steel but two business firms that are ready to open in the Ralph Show building on U.S. 45, will have to wait a bit for lack of water service.

The structural steel firm will be some months, possibly, before it is in operation but a building permit was issued Tuesday so foundations can be started.

Plans for the industry have been approved by the Plan Commission and the village board concurred in the recommendation. The plant is on a two and a half acre site west of Center Road on Laraway at Lambrecht Road.

According to Kenneth R. Fremouw, of South Holland, Mich., the plant will employ five or six persons at the beginning. The firm will pay for the extension of the water service to the plant and will install fire hydrants.

Grant Geuther, who will operate the Lambrecht Agency, insurance and real estate, in the new Show building, and John Rolston, who is already to begin operation of a food store there, appeared before the board to get water service.

The building, it was explained, is supplied by one main and the tap-on and service charges negotiated for the property, which will include a do-it-yourself laundry comes to a $14,000 package.

that will mark the meeting of football teams of the Knights and the Eagles or Carl Sandburg.

Half-time ceremonies will be featured by the individual introduction and parade of bands, ending in a massed field position. Participating bands will include Oakview Junior High of New Lenox; Frankfort Grade School; Willowcrest School (Mokena) and Anna McDonald School band of Manhattan. More than 300 young musicians will participate, under the baton of Director Kummer.

The musical program will follow a patriotic theme. The massed bands will play "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Days of Glory March," and "America, the Beautiful."

Following the game the visiting grade school bands will be entertained by the Marching Knights.

The affair is intended to spark interest among grade school band members and citizens of the Lincoln-Way district in the public school music programs.

Tinley has another first

Eileen took a "giant step." Most women take a "baby step" when they leave an empty home nest and return to the business world. But, not so with Eileen Brak.

Eileen recently bought a franchise for a Snelling and Snelling Employment Service. The office is located at 6800 W. 159th St., Tinley Park, and opening date is set for Oct. 23.

Snelling and Snelling's motto is, "We place people," and they base their successful increase from one agency in 1951, to over 500 agencies in 1972, on personal interest in employees as well as employers.

The new manager is an attractive, personable woman and recipient of two diplomas from the employment service. One of the proudly displayed diplomas states that Eileen is a Professional Employment Service Manager, and the second is a "counselor diploma" giving her the necessary back ground to verify ability of applicants.

Eileen, her husband, Stephen, an engineering specialist at Argonne Laboratory, their son, Bradford and daughter, Deidre, are second time residents of Tinley Park. The family recently moved into Bremen Towne from a short stay in Idaho brought about by a business transfer. While in Idaho, Eileen attended Clark College and took a business course to add to her previous employment agency expertise, B.F. (before family)

Bradford, who is married to the former Jean Meyer, is a Communications Consultant with Illinois Bell Telephone, Chicago Heights. He graduated from Carl Sandburg High School in 1966.

Deidre, who also attended Carl Sandburg, is a student at Moraine Valley Community College.

Eileen is also a student of Astrology. She studied with Algernon Asa and Key Lloyd, both noted Chicago area astrologers. Besides doing astrological charting for her family and friends, she has also been involved in lecturing courses. However, family and business now leave little time for furtherance in the field of astrology.

The new manager is extremely enthusiastic about the employment field and eager to serve residents and businesses in placing the right people in the right jobs.

Take another "giant step," Eileen and meet success.

Bride helps design ensemble

TINLEY PARK — Victoria Lea Oates and Lynn Alan Eckhardt were married Sept. 10, at a double ring candlelight ceremony, at Zion Lutheran Church. Pastor Paul Lechner officiated.

Victoria is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Oates, 16551 Fulton Terrace, and Lynn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Eckhardt, Decatur, Illinois.

The bride wore a satin gown with overlay of lace on the bodice and sleeves. Victoria designed the floor-length handmade train for the bridal ensemble. She was escorted to the altar by her father. Organist was Allene O'Brien and soloist, Lorraine Keuch.

Beth Ann Oates, sister of the bride, was Maid of Honor. She was attired in a purple, floor-length gown with a pink sash and wore pink shoes.

Bridemaids Christine Nagel and Denise Bettenhausen wore gowns identical to Beth Ann's gown.

Best man was Lee Eckhardt; groomsmen were William Burchard and John Burchard. Max Hutchens and Paul Cram were ushers and Larry Mohr and Jim Oates served as acolytes.

Stacy Fish, neice of the groom, was flower girl and wore a dress styled as Beth Ann's.

The bride's mother wore a floor-length, pink-lace gown and the groom's mother, a blue-knit, floor-length gown.

Victoria's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed O'Neill and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Oates, Phoenix, Arizona, were present, also.

The Orland Chateau, site of the reception, was decorated by Mrs. Wallace Mohr and Mrs. Emil Genens.

The bride and groom are students at Illinois State University, Normal, Illinois.

Take time to check house before buying

Buying a home can be one of the most rewarding experiences of your lifetime. Chances are it will be the most costly, too.

Take your time. Decide just what you need and what you can afford. Find a neighborhood that fits your family and your way of life. Ask questions about that crack in the ceiling, or that water spot in the basement.

You may want to go to a reliable real estate agency or broker. They are well equipped to help you choose the right home and help make all the arrangements for you to buy a home.

But don't forget, it's your money, and you are the one who is going to live in the house.

Before you sign anything, obtain the services of a lawyer, preferably one familiar with real estate. Then shop for the best mortgage, but look out for hidden costs.

For example, will you have to pay a penalty if you sell the house before the end of the mortgage term?

Ask about your tax obligations. Are you going to be assessed for some neighborhood improvement you know nothing about? What about the closing costs?

Take your time. Ask questions and use common sense. Don't let the house of your dreams turn into a nightmare.

"Open house" is successful

PALOS HEIGHTS — Almost 2,000 people attended an open house celebration recently at the Wimbledon, U.S.A. Palos Tennis and Health Club located at Route 83 and Ridgeland Avenue in Palos Heights.

The management at Wimbledon expressed its regret that many guests were unable to enter the huge tennis facility because of the traffic jam that was created on Ridgeland Avenue just outside the club entrance.

Wimbledon will open a reception station Sunday, Nov. 5, at the construction site for those who missed the open house.

Three of the nine tennis courts will be ready for play starting with the remaining six courts scheduled for completion sometime the following week.

Interested persons have been invited to play tennis on the new courts at no charge from Oct. 30 through Nov. 4, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on a first come, first served basis. Reservations may be made by calling 389-9100.

Local prize winners at the recent open house were: Robert A. Paonessa, Oak Forest; Steve Tanis, Tinley Park; Bill Metzler, Orland Park; and Lois Klukis, Lemont.

Winners from Palos Park were: Joanne Tharp, Lu Kuypers, and Willard Lager; and Albert Spinazola, Kathleen Hecker, Patrick McBride and LaVerne McLean, all of Palos Heights.

Traci Lynn, Lisa and Christopher Witry react in happy anticipation as they view an eight foot tall Christmas stocking. The stocking, packed with toys, will be taken home Dec. 10 by a participant in the Christmas Club at Interstate Bank, 15533 S. Cicero Ave., Oak Forest. Entry blanks for the drawing will be given with each deposit by members starting Nov. 1.

Car salesmen defeat purpose

NEW YORK—A surprising number of car salesmen are helping to defeat devices mandated by law to increase automobile safety, charges an article in the current issue of Consumer Reports magazine.

To encourage wider use of seat belts, one alternative of Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard 208 requires cars built after January 1, 1972 to have a warning light and buzzer that go on if the driver tries to drive away with his or the right front passenger's seat belt unbuckled. Unfortunately, says the Consumer Reports article, many car salesmen are all too willing to help motorists subvert that important standard.

Staff members of the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, posing as prospective car buyers, visited 11 new car dealers handling various makes in the Washington, D.C., area. In each showroom they asked the salesmen whether the light and buzzer could be disconnected or circumvented.

According to the Consumer Reports article, one salesman said the dealer could disconnect the devices and two others said that the dealer might be able to. (A dealer who disconnects the devices before the car is sold is punishable by a fine of up to $1000 for each violation.) Eight salesmen reportedly explained or offered to show how the warning device could be disconnected or circumvented.

In conclusion, Consumer Reports says that only two of these 11 salesmen accompanied their dangerous advice with the recommendation that the buyer develop the habit of wearing seat belts.

Aetna gives drivers in Illinois a new break on auto insurance.

Aetna just threw away the rule book and the rate book for auto insurance to give you a better deal on costs and coverage. We call it the All-Driver Plan.

Here's how it works.

If you have a good driving record, chances are you're getting a break on your insurance costs. Well, we can probably give you an even greater break.

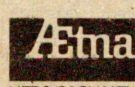

With a fair driving record, and one or two fender-benders over the past couple of years, you're most likely paying more for your coverage. But with our new approach you probably won't have to pay as much.

For drivers who've been involved in repeated accidents or violations, and have trouble getting insurance, we've found a way to insure them with broad coverage. And we'll give them the best guarantee in the industry on renewing their policy.

Call us today. Or stop in and let us show you the 10 new ways you can qualify for lower rates or broader coverage. We think you've got a lot to gain.

Schools combine needs

SOUTHWEST — Bremen High School District 228 and Eisenhower Community High School District 218 have combined resources to open an area technical center for the 1972-73 school year. The center is located at 138th St. and Crawford, Crestwood.

The school is headed by Arthur J. Stejskal, director, and is the first of its kind in the southwest suburbs.

The object of the Area Center is to provide training to develop job entry skills, abilities, understanding, attitudes, work habits and appreciation; and to import knowledge, skills, and information needed by students to enter and make progress in employment on a useful and productive basis. Vocational-technical education is an integral part of the student's total educational program, and makes a significant contribution toward the development of good citizens including their social, civic, cultural, health and economic interests.

The basic principle for vocational technical education to be applied to the Area Center is "learning by doing." The needs of the individual student are the foundations upon which all instructional activities are based. Instruction is of such nature as to prepare the student for initial employment or advance training in the occupational area of his choice immediately upon graduation. Students will be selected from programs on the basis of their interest and ability to profit from vocational technical instruction. Equipment related to each program is modern, full sized, and standard for that occupational area. Operations performed by the students will be typical of modern industrial practices.

At the center of each vocational technical program will be an instructor who is highly skilled with years of experience in his occupational area. He will provide training and the technical knowledge essential to the student in developing meaningful and useful skills.

Courses offered are as follows: Ornamental Horticulture Cooperative. This program will include regularly scheduled classroom seminars organized around the production, management, sales and service activities typically found in greenhouses, nurseries, flower ships, garden centers and controlled turf business such as golf courses and sod farms.

Accounting and Computing. Planned learning experiences in the program are concerned with a combination of practical accounting principles and procedures for systematizing information about transactions and activities into accounts and records.

Business Data Processing. The business Data processing program is designed to give the student a sound working knowledge of basic unit record equipment including keypunch, sorter, interpreter, collator and verifier, and to provide training in computer programming.

Keypunch Operations. This course is designed to develop the specific skills related to the operation of equipment which is related to electronic computers.

Business Machine Operations. Business Machine Operations are designed to prepare students for employment in business offices upon completion of the program. Concentration will be placed on accuracy and rapid operation of modern office machines.

Legal Secretary. The objective of this program is to prepare students for secretarial positions in legal, business or governmental offices.

Medical Secretary. This program is intended to prepare students for employment as a medical secretary in hospitals, clinics, medical offices and similar facilities.

Architectural Drafting and Design. This program is designed to train students interested in architectural drafting and design as a career field. Machine Drafting and Design. The purpose of this program is to provide training which parallels the jobs found in business and industrial engineering drafting departments.

Commercial Art and Design. This program will include classroom and applied experience concerning the theory, laboratory and shop work associated with the design and completion of layouts and making illustrations for product design for advertising, display and printed materials.

Electro Mechanical Technology. This program is designed to stress the interrelated aspects of electrical and mechanical power systems.

Health Occupations. Designed to train students to perform tasks involving personal care service for patients, this program will include patient hygiene, nutrition, maintaining the patient's safety and comfort, first aid, specimen collection, measurement of life signs, aseptic techniques, care and administration of medication, disease prevention and community health.

Child Care Services. A program for students interested in the care and study of children which will include the following major areas: Pre-Natal development, infant care, pre-school children, and school age children.

Cosmetology. Cosmetology is a 1500 hour training program which will prepare students to successfully complete the Examination for Certification of Registration as a Registered Beauty Culturist.

All the Commercial art students who attended classes on half day basis at the center received an extra bonus in training since most jobs today have some need for people trained in commercial art.

An interesting project was recently completed by the students when they illustrated posters advertising a type of perfume. The students chose their own subject matter in order to best get the message across. Students have also designed cereal packages with their own original inscriptions and titles. In the coming weeks they will design and make a package containing a men's deodorant and a shampoo for females.

Students are also in attendance at three beauty culture schools, Ford City, Blue Island and Harvey. Students are bussed to the Center from either their home or home high school, depending upon the time of day. Bus transportation is provided by the home high school district.

Students from School District 227 (Rich Township) attended on a tuitional basis while students from School Districts 218 and 228 attended on a cooperative basis.

Present registration, by schools, is as follows: Eisenhower, 195 students; Richards, 110; Bremen, 73; Oak Forest, 18; Tinley Park, 64; Hillcrest, 64; Rich Central, 21; Rich East, 5.

The programs as presently offered have been selected by the Area Technical Center Board of Directors based on the surveyed interest of the students and the availability of facilities in the building.

Clergy ask vacation change

The Moraine Valley Clergy Association, representing more than twenty Roman Catholic and Protestant Churches in the area of School District 230, has submitted a request to the school district for a change in the scheduling of the spring vacation. The Clergy Association unanimously passed a resolution on June 1, 1972, requesting that the District choose a vacation week which would not coincide with Holy Week or the week after Easter. William Fisher, Superintendent of District 230 has replied to the clergymen that the proposal will be considered in making the 1973-74 calendar. The District 230 Teachers' Association has also expressed interest.

According to the Rev. Keith Leach, spokesman for the Clergy Association, the churches experience difficulty when the spring vacation coincides with Easter. An increasing number of suburban families are able to take trips during the spring holiday. Their desire to do this conflicts with their desire to participate in Holy Week and Easter activities in their own churches. Frequently they are forced to make difficult choices between the two. The clergymen believe the situation could be relieved to the advantage of the community as a whole if a week which did not coincide with Holy Week or the week after Easter were chosen. The week selected could be approximately halfway between January 1 and the end of the school year and would not be "too early" or "too late" as is frequently the case when Easter Week is chosen. Good Friday would continue to be observed as a one day holiday by state law. Easter will be as late as the middle of April in three of the next five years.

The Clergy Association is seeking public support for its proposal and encourages citizens to contact Mr. Fisher or the members of the District 230 School Board. Father Leach believes the proposal may appeal to the skiers and the "snowbirds" as well since it will enable them to avoid the Easter crowds on the slopes and in the resorts.

University selects Miss Audas

OAK FOREST — Miss Pauletta Jane Audas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Audas of 16200 Debra Drive, Oak Forest, has been selected chorister of Life Service Band at Bob Jones University, Greenville, S.C. A 1971 graduate of Tinley Park High School, Miss Audas is a sophomore at BJU majoring in piano in the School of Fine Arts.

Fun time

It's Luau time again for the Frankfort Women's Club. Virginia Mondragon, Louise Brach, Mary Schwarz and Joyce Pet-nuch recall an amusing moment from last year's luau as they plan for the Dec. 9, 1972 event to be held at the Riviera Club.

Don't invite a burglar home

Many routine family practices actually assist a burglar to enter your home.

Ordie Hogsett, University of Illinois Extension safety specialist, says an estimated 20 percent of all breaking and entering cases occur because people simply leave their doors unlocked.

Adopting a more thoughtful and protective attitude can reduce burglary. Here are some suggestions:

— Keep your home, garage, porches and passageways well lighted.

— Keep a light on in your home when you go out for the evening. It's also a good idea to alternate lights left on in the home at night. Burglars can detect a set pattern.

— Install locks and chains on all doors. Keep the doors locked and the chain in use. Burglars say that snapping the chain is easy — but the accompanying noise is a deterrent.

— Fasten all screens and windows from the inside.

— Don't leave the garage door open. An empty garage — visible to all — is an invitation to law-breakers. Equipment in the garage, such as a ladder or tools, can even aid the burglar in his attempt.

— Separate your house keys from your car keys. Keys can be duplicated easily when cars are serviced, repaired, or parked in lots.

— Keep valuables in a safety deposit box.

— Keep a record of all serial numbers of your property. Put your mark on all other items. If your area cooperates in "Operation Identification," borrow the necessary tools from your local police department to mark your property with your driver's license number.

— Buy merchandise from bona fide dealers only. Buying "bargains" on the street may mean you are buying "hot" merchandise.

Your investment in time and money to follow the suggestions offered is small compared to the protection you will receive as a result.

The whole thing

Representatives Anthony Scariano and Leland Rayson paused briefly at the Tinley Park HERALD office to give Mrs. Nancy Stevenson a brief map orientation of the local 9th Legislative District.

Announce drive

WESTHAVEN — The Westhaven's Homeowners' Association is planning to have a membership drive. This will begin with a flyer announcing the aims of the organization and then committee members will call door to door on community residents.

Mayor Curtis Whitaker, present at the meeting, joined the association because "it shows a willingness to work."

Larry Mueller, member, has offered the use of an engraving tool on a 24-hour basis use. The tool engraves various identifying numbers or names on household valuables. The homeowner also gets a window decal which states that belongings are thus marked. This is supposed to be a deterrent to burglars.

The question of street lights for 159th Street and 94 Avenue was discussed, as was the possibility of installing traffic lights in several places. Whitaker suggested that application to the village for these needs be made, and a committee headed by Tony Poia was formed.

In other business, a bazaar has been planned as a money maker for a Community Center. It will have a potluck dinner, with Leanne Van Vossen as chairwoman and coordinator. Volunteers may call her at 349-3461.

The young winners of the coloring contest sponsored by the village newspaper, Chatter, each received a prize of $3.00. They are, Patty Mueller, Patricia O'Brien and Johnny Palke.

And, at this meeting a turkey was given away as a door prize; George and JoAnn Mulcahy took home the bird.

BEFORE YOU VOTE FOR ANY MAN

MAKE SURE HE KNOWS HOW TO

SUBTRACT

Persons seeking office seem to be wizards at addition — they can add to government without batting an eyelash, add give-away programs, add deficits and debts. That's easy! It doesn't cost them anything, and it gets some careless votes.

The persons who can save this country from turmoil and lack of funds are those persons who know how to subtract from government, how to subtract programs and bureaus we can live without, how to subtract from Federal, State and local debts which are pressuring our country.

Let's begin by doing some subtracting on our own. Elect a man who knows how to subtract . . . Jim Bell, No. 104, for Senator.

Did you know that All Savings Certificates at various financial institutions are not the same? If you have a savings certificate, make these check marks.

- ☐ Check the minimum deposit (That could decide what interest rate you will receive)
- ☐ Check the interest rate. (Not all rates are the same)
- ☐ Check the terms. (It could make a lot of difference in rate).
- ☐ Check the penalties for early withdrawals. (Not all penalties are the same.)
- ☐ Check your savings certificate's conditions. (Can you borrow on your certificate and save your interest? Is advance notice required for withdrawal?)

Now when you have checked off all the facts you have on the savings certificates... call Mrs. Herman.

It was mud and guts Saturday afternoon as the Tinley Park Titans ground out a 17-0 homecoming victory over Thornton Fractional North. It was Tinley's sixth straight win this season.

First homecoming a super success

OAK FOREST — This community's first homecoming was a great success despite the cold rainy weather.

The lightweight's started the day with a 40-yard TD pass from Jim Linn to Pete Brennan on the second play of the game. During a hard fought, scoreless second and third quarter, Dean Runyan intercepted a pass and brought it back 20 yards, and Jay Deerwester recovered a fumble for Oak Forest inside the 10 yard line. Oak Forest got on the scoreboard again in the fourth quarter with a short pass from Jim Linn to Don Howley. Joey Kunkel pushed his way through for the point after. Plainfield scored on a long run late in the fourth quarter. Final score Oak Forest 13 Plainfield 7.

The lightweights lost 19-7, the only TD for Oak Forest being scored on a reverse play by Paul Panko that went 45 yards for the TD. Pat Lavery ran in for the extra point.

The Oak Forest Park District Football League has to give special thanks to Mrs. Coatar and her crew of cheerleaders, who fought their way through rain and mud to cheer the boys on their way. Those girls just never gave up.

The Raiders will play their last conference game at Markham Sunday. There is a good possibility that both the heavyweight and lightweight teams will go into the play offs.

The PeeWees shut out Plainfield 28-0. The defense did not let up a first down while holding Plainfield to the shut out. The offense was really rolling as Kevin Emmet scored their first TD. Joe Misheck later plowed through for the second TD and Kevin Emmet got the extra point.

There were two more TDs in the second half, the first by Mark Lenzen with Kevin Emmet again getting the point after. Mike Bragg scored the final TD with Dave Wierzal smashing through for the extra point. The tremendous job David Schilling did at kicking won special praise from his coaches. The PeeWee defensive team is really holding, as they have not been scored on in their last four games.

The heavyweights were upset by Plainfield 33-0. Tim Grahn's passing game was crushed by a tough Plainfield defense and a muddy field. His receivers could not get their footing to get into position in time and there was no way for Tim to tell his muddy teammates from the muddy Plainfield boys, as many of his passes were intercepted.

The Raiders let up four TDs in the first half but held Plainfield to one TD and a safety in the second half. Randy Douglas recovered three key fumbles for Oak Forest, all inside the 10 yard line. It was a hard fought game on both sides.

Both Saturday teams were defeated by Romeoville.

Saint Michael Wildcats smash south team 45-0

ORLAND PARK — The Saint Michael Wildcats of Orland Park did it again Sunday by smashing a reportedly tough South Saint Michael team 45-0.

Denis Richards of the Wildcats, a backup halfback had an outstanding day, scoring three touchdowns and gaining well over 100 yards. Richards also played defensive halfback.

Bill Lyons and quarterback Pat Nelson of the Wildcats scored two touchdowns each giving the Wildcats an easy victory.

The Wildcat defense lead by Mike Revord, Keven Hammertree, Ray Koelar, Joe Manzel was outstanding once again.

The Wildcats' record now stands at 5-0 with two games left to play.

Defensive standout Mike Revord pinched a nerve and missed the second half, but the injury is not considered serious. John Depasa, a split end for the Wildcats, also was injured in the game.

Coach Bob Price was pleased with his team's performance and hopes to do as well next week against Latin Youth Center. The game will be at Saint Michael field Sunday afternoon.

Tinley eyes conference

TINLEY PARK — As the 1972 prep football season was on the eve of its debut, Tinley Park High School grid coach Jim Fredenberger expressed his desire to keep his Titan squad in competition for Southeast Suburban Conference championship honors.

Saturday's action was yet another indication of Fredenberger's apparent success, as the Titans rolled over Thornton Fractional North, 17-0.

The victory was the sixth consecutive win this season for the Tinley Park squad. Five of those wins have been in SES Conference competition.

The currently undefeated Titans have finished second in the SES for the past two years. In 1971, they ended the season with a 7-1 average.

Saturday's game began well for the Titans as quarterback Ed Neal scored in the first period with a field goal.

For the remainder of the half, neither team crossed the line for points and Tinley Park was ahead 3-0 as the buzzer sounded.

Fullback George Miles was key man for the Titans during the third period as he carried the ball across the goal on a two yard run. A pass from Neal to Charles Skinulis resulted in the successful conversion and the Titans stood in front, 11-0.

In the fourth period, it was again Neal's turn to bring in the points for Tinley Park. He carried the ball for 17 yards to fix the final score of 17-0.

The Titan squad enjoyed the additional pleasure of exhibiting their abilities for Tinley Park High School alumni Saturday. The game highlighted the Titans' homecoming activities.

The Titans were scheduled to face

Bradley High School this Friday. However, a change in scheduling has the squad traveling to McNamara High School at Kankakee for Saturday afternoon competition. The game will be played at 2 p.m., with jayvee action beginning at noon.

Eagles get shot down

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg Eagles took it on the chin last Friday night losing to Reavis 27-7.

Bill Kelly of Reavis put a thorn in the Eagles' side early in the first half by running 72 yards for one touchdown and scoring on an 18-yard pass from quarterback Bob Ballin minutes later.

Junior halfback Rick Schlenger was the Eagles' most productive offensive threat gaining 50 yards on nine carries.

Coach Cliff Eade said, "this was one of the worst games we've played. Our ends stood, our tackles didn't fill the holes and our safeties did not come up on the run."

But the coach added, he is very proud of his team for doing as well as they have done this year. "Most people said our team would be lucky to win three games but I am confident the team will win six," Coach Eade observed.

The game obviously was dominated statistically by Reavis. The Rams outgained the Eagles in total yards 201-250. The Eagles, for a short time, came to life in the third quarter when they marched down to the Reavis eight-yard line and senior quarterback, Bill Nelson ran it in for the Eagles' only score.

Bill Hammertree of the Eagles played an outstanding game defensively making several tackles and trying to stop a very explosive Reavis offense.

Coach Eade commented, "Reavis played one of its best games while we let down." This surprised Eade because in all of his 11 years of coaching, Sandburg football teams have always played especially well on homecoming.

The Eagles' record now stands at 4-2 overall and 3-2 in conference. The Eagles' other loss was to first place Homewood-Flossmoor.

Sandburg will try to bounce back this Saturday against the luckless Lincoln-Way Knights at Lincoln-Way. The game will kickoff at 2 p.m.

Eagle women smash Reavis tank women

ORLAND PARK — Last Thursday the Carl Sandburg girls' swim team finished its last conference meet by smashing the Reavis tankwomen 82-12 at Carl Sandburg.

Jennifer Crewe, Gloria Johnson, Vicki Bozich and Peggy Cox of the Eagles won the 200-yard medley relay. Gail Johnson of the Eagles won in the 200-yard free style and the 50-yard butterfly. Her twin sister, Gloria Johnson, won the 50 and 100-yard breast stroke races.

Sandburg's Jenny Henely wrapped things up by winning in the individual 100-yard medley. Cindy Messmaker and Dawn Dematrol, both of the Eagles, took seconds in diving.

Coach Barbara Geyer said, "I am very proud of all the girls and hope to have more meets for next year." The Eagle tankwomen were undefeated by winning all five of their meets this year.

These unbeaten swimmers will finish their season Saturday at the Sandburg Invitational. Five teams, including Carl Sandburg, will participate in this meet. The teams are Reavis, Oak Lawn, Thornwood, Hillcrest and Carl Sandburg. The meet is at Carl Sandburg beginning at 2 p.m. and is free of charge.

Knights down six game streak

PARK FOREST — The Knights of Lincoln-Way High School were stopped for the sixth consecutive time this season when they bowed Saturday to the Rich East High School Rockets, 6-0.

The competition was part of Southwest Suburban Conference action.

As with other area teams, the afternoon's competition was played under the most extreme of conditions, as rain and wind made for a cold and muddy playing field.

It was the eighth straight loss for Lincoln-Way. Last season the team won three games after a 23 game losing streak. The three game win of last year had caused high hopes for Coach Joe Rodriguez, but apparently they are fading fast as the season progresses.

The only touchdown of the game came mid-way in the first period as the Rockets' Ray Carlson made a 57 yard run. For the remainder of the game, neither team advanced to scoring position.

Celts break trend to tie Luther South

CHICAGO — It wasn't a win, but it was an improvement Saturday for the Celtics of Providence High School as the grid squad tied Luther South 6-6 in Private School League action.

For the Celtics, the tie was a welcomed change after five consecutive defeats this season.

Coach Matt Senffner's team broke into the game early, scoring their only touchdown in the initial minutes of the first period.

The touchdown came when Mike Flynn blocked a punt attempt on the Luther 30 yard line. Runningback Jack Buchanan grabbed the ball and hastened 20 yards down the field for the points.

The Celtics were able to hold Luther scoreless for most of the remainder of the game. However, with approximately six minutes left in the fourth period, Luther's Ted Marshall carried the ball for an important one yard and the touchdown.

Excellent Providence defense is reflected in the game statistics which show Luther with the ball on numerous occasions but continuously held scoreless. Luther managed eight first downs compared to only two for the Celtics.

In yardage, Luther gained 110 yards in rushing and 10 yards in passing. Providence, meanwhile, gained but 20 yards in rushing.

Coach Senffner expressed satisfaction with his defensive squad.

In the day's sophomore action, the Luther South squad topped the Celtics, 16-8.

Carl Sandberg upset defeated by Reavis

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg sophomore football team ran into some tough luck last week, being defeated by Reavis 12-7.

Pat Malone gave the Eagles a 7-6 lead with a seven-yard run before the half ended. Later in the game the Eagles scored again on a long pass play only to be called back. The Eagles record now stands at 4-2.

The Eagles will play Lincoln-Way Saturday kickoff at noon.

Rotary-engine Mazda comes to Chicago Heights — Mazda of Chicago Heights dealer Harold L. Eisenstein (left) inspects key components of unique Mazda rotary engine at the time of his appointment as one of the first 34 Mazda dealers in the Midwest and East. Eisenstein will open Mazda of Chicago Heights at 1124 Halsted Street in Chicago Heights December 1. On that date, 80 to 100 single-line Mazda dealers will open for business across the Midwest and East. Explaining to Eisenstein how the rotary engine works is Midwest Branch Director Sid Fogel. Shown above is the rotary-powered RX-2 sport coupe, one of nine Mazda models to go on sale at Mazda of Chicago Heights December 1.

Autos go electric

The first public showing of a commercially available electric automobile took place in Chicago at the Civic Center Plaza recently when Electric Fuel Propulsion of Detroit unveiled its X-144.

Unlike its electric predecessors, the X-144 is not an experimental car. It is a street-ready, fully developed and tested automobile.

Says EFP President Robert A. Aronson: "You can be the first in your town to drive a car that has no gas tank, emits no pollution, and at a steady speed of 50 miles per hour delivers the equivalent of a satisfying 175 miles to the gallon. With average stop-and-start driving, performance is still a remarkable 55 mile-per-gallon equivalent."

The X-144 is an electrified American Motors Gremlin with a top speed of 70 miles per hour and can travel up to 60 miles on a single battery charge. Its battery can be recharged overnight by plugging into a standard electrical outlet. Optional fast charging in less than an hour is also available. An average charge costs about 40 cents.

"In the past 12 years, we have built 60 experimental cars and road-tested them everywhere from Florida to Alaska," said Aronson. "With this car you can forget about anti-freeze, tune-ups and many of the other headaches associated with standard automobiles. The X-144 is an ideal urban vehicle for short-range driving, commuting, shopping and delivery."

The car is equipped with 20 horsepower DC motor and a solid-state electronic speed controller which replace the conventional engine. Patented lead-cobalt batteries substitute for the gas tank.

Among the selling points offered to pocketbook-conscious buyers is a guaranteed $1,500 trade-in after five to seven years. Aronson observed, "We can do this because there's very little to depreciate on the X-144. When the body rusts out, we intend to reuse the motor and controller which should last for 20 years."

Top notch

The 1973 Thunderbird is distinguished by a new front appearance which complements the all-new design of 1972. Ford Division's sales leader in the medium specialty field, Thunderbird receives a new aluminum grille, a larger impact-absorbing front bumper and a distinctive hood ornament.

Yanson sales mgr.: Chevy beyond belief

Earl Trompeter, general manager of Yanson Chevrolet in Chicago Heights has estimated that the year 1973 will show record gains for Yanson and indeed all of Chevrolet.

Said Trompeter, "The new models are beyond belief in contour, color, interiors and performance."

Heading the list in the Most Wanted Automobile category is the Monte Carlo, shown here with a landau top. (See accompanying artists rendering.) A luxury look, big car performance and whisper quiet ride — it's all in the '73 Monte Carlo's.

When speaking of value Chevrolet's Impala has to be included too. This year Impala comes through again with the many qualities that have made it America's most popular car. The Impala comes through with more value per dollar than ever before. With the roominess. With the ride quality. With the comfort found only on cars priced considerably more.

Which shouldn't come as any surprise. Impala has been America's most popular car year after year and the undisputed leader in its field when it comes to resale value.

This year's highlights include new front and rear styling, new improved front bumper system, a refined flow-through power ventilation system, smart new interiors and extras you can order like wire wheel covers and a dome reading light. Naturally, Impalas standard feature list remains impressive. For example: variable-ratio power steering, power disc brakes in front and three-range Turbo-Hydramatic transmission.

Dollar for dollar, Impala is one of the biggest values on the road today.

Just one of the new Impalas is the Sport Sedan with 4-door styling that is both sporty and elegant. A combination that isn't a compromise, but a beautiful blend of looks, comfort and convenience. Plus the benefit of easy entrance and exit to the rear seat.

The Sport Sedan is just one of the models of the entire Chevrolet '73 lineup which can be seen at Yanson Chevrolet, located at 555 W. Lincoln Highway (Route 30), Chicago Heights.

There is also a wide range of campers, vans and pickup trucks available including outstanding values on new 1972 models.

Lincoln offers new town car

The Lincoln Continental line for 1973 adds a new Town Coupe, a two-door version of the popular four-door Continental Town Car. Interiors are available with expanded trim color selections, wider front-seat head restraints and a longer front-seat armrest.

Completely redesigned in 1972, the Continental Mark IV for 1973 retains the classic styling that has made this model the most successful "Mark" of all.

Product refinements include an improved rear suspension; larger rear brakes; bigger steel-belted, radial-ply, white sidewall tires; and a side-terminal battery. On the inside, front and rear headroom is increased.

Cornering lamps and the opera window in the rear roof pillar are standard features for the 1973 Mark IV, while new options include an AM-FM multiplex radio with stereo-tape system and an elegant Silver Luxury Group. The new luxury group consists of a unique cranberry corduroy velour interior and silver exterior.

Located at 535 W. Lincoln Highway (Route 30) Chicago Heights, Olympia Lincoln Mercury has a full line of '73's and is now clearing out the remainder of all '72's at low discount prices.

Ford offers optional system for anti-theft

A new Ford car, with fresh front appearance, new sheet metal and unique features, including an optional anti-theft alarm system and a standard spare tire extractor for station wagons, highlights Ford Division offerings for 1973.

"With our bread-and-butter car all new, and with the market leadership we hope to continue with Pinto, Torino, Thunderbird and Mustang, we look forward to 1973 as another record-breaking year," said John Naughton, Ford vice president and Ford Division general manager.

The division's 39 car models are available in six lines subject to federal emissions certification.

Ford Division continues to expand the availability of radial-ply steel-belted tires which are standard again on the Thunderbird in 1973 and now optional on all other car lines. These tires are offered with a 40,000-mile wear guarantee from the manufacturer.

The Ford car receives a new look, a more convenient instrument panel, and a variety of new features. Thunderbird offers a new front appearance and a new optional opera window.

Torino, with two new luxury models, eliminates the high-back bench seat of 1972 and adds a new front grille. Mustang's front bumper now is molded urethane.

Maverick's interior is substantially upgraded. Pinto adds to changes started during the 1972 model year both steering and braking refinements besides new paint and trim color selections.

New impact-absorbing bumper systems that meet Federal safety standards are on all 1973 Ford Division cars as are new exhaust emission control devices to help control oxides of nitrogen.

The Ford features a new grille, and new sheet metal which give the car a long, formal look. All four-door Fords have new "greenhouses" with increased headroom over similar 1972 models.

Other Ford standard equipment improvements include a new instrument panel which places the radio, heater-air conditioner and clock within easy sight and reach of both the driver and front passengers. The bin-type glove box is twice as large as in 1972.

Its standard transmission is automatic.

Its engine is fuel-injected.

Its front brakes are discs.

Its tires are radial ply.

When you buy a VW 411, they come with the price of the car. Automatically.

SPECIAL FACTORY AUTHORIZATION!

Price protection at Terry's Lincoln-Mercury now!

There is a possibility that the manufacturer's suggested retail prices on new 1973 cars will go up after October 31. No one knows for sure.

But one thing is certain: if you order your new Lincoln or Mercury between now and October 31, the new car price you and your Lincoln-Mercury dealer agree on will be the new car price you pay on delivery — regardless of any price increase which may take effect after you place your order and before you take delivery. In short, the price you bargain for when you order your car is the price you pay at delivery. No matter what. As long as you order before October 31.

Which makes one more very good reason to see your Lincoln-Mercury dealer — today!

Jack Perno predicts

Another 'Ford' year

A New Ford car, with fresh front appearance, new sheet metal, and unique features including an optional anti-theft alarm system and a standard spare tire extractor for station wagons, highlights Ford Division offerings for 1973.

Jack Perno of Jack Perno Ford, 21000 Western, Olympia Fields indicated that these and other features will move Ford toward another record breaking year. Perno Ford has a full line of all the '73's available for immediate delivery.

Perno continued that Ford Division has expanded the availability of radial-ply steel-belted tires which are standard again on the Thunderbird in 1973 and now optional on all other car lines. These tires are offered with a 40,000-mile wear guarantee from the manufacturer.

The Ford car receives a new look, a more convenient instrument panel, and a variety of new features. Thunderbird offers a new front appearance and a new optional opera window.

Torino, with two new luxury models, eliminates the high-back bench seat of 1972 and adds a new front grille. Mustang's front bumper now is molded urethane. Maverick's interior is substantially upgraded and Pinto adds to changes started during the '72 model year both steering and braking refinements besides new paint and trim color selections.

New impact-absorbing bumper systems that meet Federal safety standards are on all 1973 Ford Division cars as are new exhaust emission control devices to help control oxides of nitrogen.

FORD

The Ford features a new grille, and new sheet metal which give the car a long, formal look. All four-door Fords have new "greenhouses" with increased headroom over similar 1972 models.

Other Ford standard equipment improvements include a new instrument panel which places the radio, heater-air conditioner and clock within easy sight and reach of both the driver and front passengers. The bin-type glove box is twice as large as in 1972. Improved window weather-stripping helps to provide an especially quiet ride.

Winter of '71 mild, but be ready for '72

Interested in snow tires or the Polysteel tire? Stop in at the Park Forest Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company Service Store, 80 S. Orchard, Park Forest. New manager at the store, Rich Johnston, will be more than happy to answer any questions pertaining to his company's products.

In addition to offering the motoring public fine tires Goodyear also provides expert automotive services. Those services include: a "Snap-back" engine tune-up brake relining, and front-end alignment — all offered at rock bottom prices. (For further information about these services see Goodyear's advertisement in this section.)

The store will be open Mondays and Thursdays, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Another famous Goodyear product is the Polysteel tire which has proven that Goodyear products have been tested and refined to the razor's edge. Visualize any tire being driven over rows upon rows of sharply honed cleavers. Few tire manufacturers would have the courage to do it. Goodyear did and the results were amazing.

A one-time shot? Guess again. The Goodyear polysteel tire took 1,564 cuts, then went on to run 100 miles at 70 miles per hour — all without the loss of air!

What makes it so tough? Two belts of steel cord to resist impact and penetration in the tread area. In order to keep those bone-jolting shocks from reaching the passenger are the flexible polyester cord soaks up shocks and bumps.

Chevrolet puts 2 new lines out

Chevrolet, which sells more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer in the world, offers two 1973 auto lines that are completely new from the ground up — the Monte Carlo, the division's personal luxury car and an all-new Chevelle.

The 1973 Chevelles, featuring seven car series from the top-of-the line Caprice to the versatile Vega, give America's automobile buyer the greatest choice of styling features and safety innovations ever offered in the division's 62-year history.

In the model year that just ended Chevrolet broke its all time past sales record. Along the way new sales records were established for the Corvette, the Monte Carlo, the Caprice, the Nova and the Vega.

John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Chevrolet, said, "The '73 models are substantially improved in roadability, comfort and styling."

"Chevrolet dealers are undertaking an all new service program, called 'Service Supremacy,' which should result in a giant step toward better service," DeLorean added.

"The addition of an improved product and improved service to the momentum built in the past year should guarantee a super year for Chevrolet in 1973," he said.

Chevrolet will offer 47 passenger car models in 1973, eight more than in the previous year.

The new Monte Carlo, one of the industry's strongest candidates for car-of-the-year honors, has outstanding handling and roadability characteristics.

From its new impact resistant bumper and new roofline to its sculptured taillights, the Monte Carlo has redesigned interiors, instrument panel and steering wheel.

Also new is an acoustically engineered double-panel roof. A power-operated all-metal sliding roof is optional. Another customer-plus is a new 22-gallon fuel tank.

The full-size standard Chevrolet, the industry's top selling car, offers a new luxury series, the top-of-the-line Caprice Classic, which sports a convertible model for the first time along with two and four-door hardtops and a four-door sedan.

Dodge scores again with beautiful styling

Dodge will introduce added features on Polara-Monaco models for 1973 plus a new front end design for Polara to continue the sales momentum generated in its full-size, medium priced cars.

Dodge 1972 model year sales climbed 12 per cent and 19 per cent for the first half of the calendar year over the previous year.

Continuing the successful marketing approach of 1972, Dodge is increasing the distinction between the full-sized line's three models, Polara, Polara Custom and Monaco.

The new front end styling featuring hidden headlamps which was introduced in 1972 will be retained as a Monaco trait, while a new front end grille and grille panel has been provided for Polara and Polara Custom for 1973.

"By accenting the difference between Polara and Monaco, we accent the value each represents, with the Monaco, of course, providing a step up in luxury," said Richard D. McLaughlin, Dodge general sales manager.

Polara-Monaco models for 1973 will offer power front disc brakes, new high speed starter motor, power steering, automatic transmission, a number of new emissions controls, new windshield wiper design, significant improvements in their Torsion Quiet ride, and the new extra protection bumper system and standard electronic ignition.

Interior room and luggage space in Polara, Polara Custom and Monaco is among the largest in the medium and low-priced conventional market.

The three models will continue to have higher than average levels of exterior ornamentation and interior trim for their market segment. Both Polara models offer a full-range of new seats.

A factory installed Electronic Security Alarm system is available. The system causes headlights, taillights, and side marker lights to flash in conjunction with the pulsing of the horn whenever protected areas of the car are violated.

The three big Dodges also benefit from corporate Chrysler programs emphasizing standardization, simplification and in-line testing in the manufacturing process, and serviceability in system and component design. McLaughlin said:

"These manufacturing and design programs ultimately mean increased value to the customer because they result in greater product reliability and greater ease of service, when required."

Optional steel-belted radial ply tires are available for all Polara-Monacos. Tinted front vent windows are available on four door sedans and hardtops and station wagons.

The Polara, Polara Custom and Monaco all offer two-door hardtops, four-door sedans and two-seat station wagons. Polara Custom and Monaco also offer four-door hardtops and three-seat wagons. Improved trailer towing packages will be available for 1973.

The 318 CID engine is standard for Polara and Polara Custom with the 360, 400 and 440 optional. Monaco features a larger base engine with the 360 CID, 400 and 440 engines optional. All station wagons have the 360 engine as standard.

A new high speed starter motor reduces starting time as much as one third. All engines for the three big cars can operate on unleaded 91-octane or low lead fuels.

Monaco continues its optional Brougham package for added high styling at the top of the Dodge lineup. Included in the package are vinyl roof, 50-50 cloth and vinyl front seats, trunk and tire cover carpeting, sill and sill extension moldings, cornering lights and name plates. Deluxe wheel covers are standard on all Monacos.

Brown makes the difference

"All Buicks are created equal but Jack Brown makes the Difference."

It's a slogan attested to by thousands of repeat customers yearly. Some of the reasons for the success of Jack Brown Buick are:

Jack Brown Buick is one of the newest and most modern facilities in the Midwest. Jack Brown Buick is the seventh largest Buick dealer and first in service.

Jack Brown Buick has more than 500 new and used cars on the premises.

In addition to the many pluses offered the automobile-buying public, Jack Brown offers a unique call back service after the auto has been in the repair shop.

Prices are lower too, because of the tremendous volume of Buicks sold. Also at Jack Brown Buick, located at 209th Street and Western, Chicago Heights, the car buyer is offered complete financing and an insurance program.

Said Jack Rutledge, general manager, "At Jack Brown Buick we put it all together. We have one of the most complete service departments in the entire Midwest, with factory trained technicians who have up to 30 years experience. A complete body shop, from frame rack to paint booth, a complete separate reconditioning department for trade-ins... plus friendly personnel who appreciate your business and prove it time and time again."

"Our sales representatives are instructed to maintain contact with the customer for at least two years after a sale!"

At the top of Buick's all-new Century line is this Regal Coupe, with a crisp, formal roof and uniquely-styled quarter windows that provide a complete identity of its own. The strong vertical pattern grille and jewel-like rectangular parking lamps complement the larger single headlamps. The Regal's new design also features a wide, formal taillamp treatment and a crisp, clean rear deck highlighted only by the Regal crest and Buick nameplate. As an option, Regal offers the same luxurious interior trim materials used in the top of the line Buick Limited.

The all-new chassis developed for Buick's intermediate-size Century line provided Buick engineers an opportunity to incorporate many of the important and time-proven chassis features of the regular size Buicks.

As an example, all Buicks will now have AccuDrive, which is Buick's total roadability suspension system. This provides riding comfort and quietness along with precise handling and directional stability. It is achieved by combining tailored suspension and steering geometry with engine mountings, suspension bushings and body mounts specifically selected for each model.

All models in the Century series will have another "big car" feature in 1973 — a new instrument panel that permits servicing of components from the driver's seat. This new instrument panel combines the best elements of tasteful styling and functional requirements.

Front disc brakes will be standard, for better stopping ability and smoothness. Power disc brakes will be standard on the Century wagons, and optional on all other intermediates.

For easier loading and unloading, along with a clean, graceful appearance, the Century wagons will have a hatchback tailgate, hinged at the top. An optional rear-facing third seat will be offered with a unique flip-open rear quarter window for additional passenger comfort.

Pontiac introduces classic Grand Am and the standards with new innovations

Pontiac for 1973 features a new sport intermediate, fresh styling and continued engineering improvement in energy-absorbing bumpers and emission control.

There are 33 models in the new Pontiac lineup including 13 full-size Pontiac lineup including full-size Pontiacs, two Grand Am and seven LeMans intermediates, four Firebirds, six Venturas and the Grand Prix.

The addition to the intermediate line is the stunning new Grand Am which incorporates classic styling with unique ride and handling characteristics. A distinctive body-colored front bumper and flexible rubber-like urethane front end panel combine functional styling with engineering to give an improved bumper system.

On most 1973 models, Pontiac has front bumpers which exceed the requirements of federal bumper standards by being completely self-restoring in a 5 m.p.h. barrier test.

The new bumper system on the front of all full-size and intermediate Pontiacs and the Grand Prix features a new energy-absorbing unit mounted to the frame that can compress up to three inches and return to normal position when the force is removed.

This unit utilizes heavy telescoping steel chambers, pressurized gas and hydraulic fluid to absorb the impact. Protective rub strips and bumper guards are available.

The new rear bumper on all Pontiac full-size and intermediate-size cars except Safaris is backed up with a high strength steel-boxed beam reinforcement. The bumper is supported with flexible steel bars to form a spring system.

Extensive changes have been made on the 1973 engines to meet more stringent emission standards with no reduction in engine performance or driveability. In fact, overall driveability and fuel economy will, in most instances, be significantly better.

A new exhaust gas recirculation system helps reduce oxides of nitrogen to 1973 standards. This system introduces exhaust gas into the air fuel mixture in the intake manifold, when required, lowering peak combustion temperature with consequent reduction of pollutants.

A new carburetor choke design contributes to substantial reduction in hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions. On the initial cold start the choke is on strong for improved driveability, but is pulled off more rapidly as the engine warms up for improved emission control and fuel economy.

Also new for 1973 is a duct system directing cold air to the carburetor. This increases maximum engine power and allows greater spark advance with a consequent increase in fuel economy.

The standard Pontiacs feature an all new front end with the grilles for 1973 extending the full width of the front, wrapping around the leading edge of the fenders.

The luxurious Grand Ville is offered as a two-door formal hardtop coupe, a convertible coupe and four-door formal hardtop sedan. Grand Villes are built on 124-inch wheelbases (127-inch for Grand Safari) with an overall length of 224.8 inches. The Grand Safari wagon is available in two or three-seat models.

The Bonneville is offered as a two-door hardtop coupe, a four-door hardtop sedan and a four-door sedan.

The Grand Prix carries through an interpretation of Pontiac's traditional front end split center theme.

The 1973 model is 2½ inches wider and four inches longer than last year's model with a 116-inch wheelbase, and is 216.6 inches long.

Immediately noticeable in profile is a new fixed rear quarter window which blends with the classic styling and improves visibility. A distinctive "GP" emblem is included in this rear quarter window. In the rear the "boat tail" theme is accented by a pronounced rear crease extending through the rear window.

The stunning new Grand Am highlights 1973 intermediates from Pontiac. This new sporty luxury car is offered as a two-door hardtop (112-inch wheelbase) and four-door hardtop (116-inch wheelbase).

The fixed rear quarter window on the Grand Am coupe features body-colored or top-colored louvers. One of the most distinctive features of the Grand Am is its outstanding roadability. Use of steel belted radial tires with a specially tuned suspension provide a smooth ride and outstanding handling.

The intermediates have an all-new appearance with larger glass area and thinner corner pillars giving improved visibility all around while affording improved roof strength, tight body and glass fits and reduced wind noise.

Detroit tries harder

Public getting truth in auto ads

By Michael Chapin
Special to Crescent Newspapers from Washington, D.C.

Picture a blindfolded Arthur Godfrey, dressed in a space suit, carrying a railroad tie and walking on a tightrope attached to an automobile that is sitting beside the sea on a cold wet morning.

Strange? Not really. On any given night this fall a viewer might watch enough new car commercials to have seen all the parts of the above composite. But will motorists be given any nuts and bolts knowledge about the worth of these automobiles?

Hopefully they will, because automobile manufacturers say they have learned a lesson. Detroit "got caught with its pants down" in 1971 when manufacturers were unable to support advertising claims on 60 per cent of the commercials studies by the Federal Trade Commission.

The FTC is still considering litigation for some of the 1971 ads. An FTC attorney connected with the 1971 ad substantiation study said, "There is a good chance there will be another round of 1973 ad substantiation studies" by the agency.

But rather than back away from making strong claims this year, auto manufacturers are producing "proof of claim" dossiers along with their ads.

Although most claims will be undisputedly substantiated this year, however, the consumer still can afford to watch commercials with a little more "thinking," according to Barney O'Mara, an engineer at Ralph Nadar's Center for Auto Safety.

Consumers should take advantage of some logic that has been revealed for the first time in the FTC 1971 ad substantiation report, prepared by the engineering firm of Bolt Beranek and Newman, Inc. The full report was leaked to the press Oct. 6.

Background information in the report breaks down each auto claim to show its relevance to the worth and performance of the car.

For example, many auto commercials stress the low purchase price of a particular 1973 model, but this alone should not convince the consumer to buy that particular model.

An intelligent consumer, according to the report, should be aware that the original purchase price is linked with other expenses. There are depreciation costs, operating costs (replacement, maintenance and repair), insurance costs, license fees, and property and excise taxes.

A high-priced automobile may have a higher trade-in value and lower maintenance costs than an economy model. Therefore, in some cases a consumer may not save as much as expected by purchasing a low-priced automobile.

Automobile commercials often proclaim the addition of a safety improvement on a new model. But consumers should not infer that one safety addition has made a car safe to drive.

The FTC report explains how engineers are concerned with preventing accidents, protecting passengers during an accident and preventing any further injury in the wake of an accident.

Improvements in visibility, handling, braking, convenience of operating controls, reliability of important parts and acceleration can help the driver avoid accidents.

Seat belts, air bags, steel door beams, reinforced roofs and collapsible steering wheels keep the driver in the car and reduce interior hazards during a crash.

Other improvements, such as a well-protected gas tank, can be made to further protect drivers from post-crash hazards such as fire.

These different possible safety improvements are related. For example, the recent flared hood design which hides windshield wipers can penetrate windshields in medium speed crashes.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has proposed a standard to outlaw such hoods as of Sept. 1, 1973, for passenger cars, if the hood penetrates a windshield in a 30 m.p.h. frontal barrier impact.

This year the consumer will probably be treated to fewer dangling comparatives and undefined terms and phrases. A problem in 1971 is illustrated in a commercial that promised to "get you 0-60 in 12.5 seconds."

But the consumer who bought one with automatic transmission found out his car would not perform that well. The manufacturer neglected to inform the consumer that the claim was only for models equipped with manual transmissions.

Another example, "lower pollution," means nothing unless consumers are told lower than what. How does engine emission match up with 1972 federal standards of 39 grams of carbon monoxide, 3.4 grams of hydrocarbons, and 2.0 grams of evaporated fuel (HC) emissions per mile?

The manufacturer knows the answer to this question as well as how the model compares with other manufacturers' cars, according to the FTC report.

It is these specifics that consumers should demand if they are not revealed in the commercial. For example, "comfort" can be explained in actual dimensions for leg room, hip room and head room.

Bulldogs to compete in classic

TINLEY PARK — The Tinley Park Bulldog Sunday teams will be entertaining St. Anthony of Roseland for their annual Pumpkin Bowl classic. The bowl game will be held Sunday, Nov. 12, with games starting at noon.

The Lightweights will play first and the Pee Wee game will follow. The Heavyweight game will be the last game of the day. During half-time ceremonies, the Bulldogs will crown the Pumpkin Bowl queen.

During this past weekend the Tinley Park Bulldogs Lightweights squad continued their winning ways as they defeated a tough Lemont ball team 25-0.

The Tinley team got off to a slow start but made up for lost time in the beginning of the second quarter. The Bulldogs' first score came on a six-yard drive from Tom Farrell. The extra point was missed and the score remained 6-0.

It was not four minutes later and the Bulldogs scored again. This touchdown came on a 38-yard run by Tony Proszek. Proszek would run one more for 32-yards on the exact same play before the day was over. On Proszek's second touchdown a lot of credit has to be given to the offensive line as it held blocks long enough for Proszek to get through the hole and down the field.

As the game went on, the rain came down and the field kept getting muddier and muddier. But this did not hinder the Tinley attack. THE Bulldogs kept right on moving down the field and scored once more before the end of the day. Tinley Park's other score came on a four-yard dive by Don Westerhausen. Westerhausen broke two tackles before he reached the endzone standing up.

The defensive unit has to be given a lot of credit too. The Bulldogs held the Lemont offense to two-yards on the ground and only 14 yards in the air. The Lemont offense ended with a total of 12 yards complete offense. Special mention has to be given to David Hoeh as he threw the Lemont quarterback for losses time after time. Hoeh also recovered a Lemont fumble.

A big story in Sunday's game was the fine running of Scott Stuckly. Stuckly did not get on the scoreboard but it was his desire and aggressiveness which kept the Tinley team fired up. He played one of his best ballgames against a very stingy Lemont team.

The Bulldogs finished with 167 yards total offense. They gained 146 of it on the ground.

The Tinley team will be traveling to Plainfield next week for the final conference game before the championship which will be held Nov. 5 in Romeoville.

Eagles finish fifth in conference meet

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg cross country finished fifth place out of eight teams in the annual conference meet Saturday.

Reavis finished first and Homewood Flossmoor a close second.

Tom Page was the Eagles' highest finisher, coming in 18th out of 56 runners. Other Eagle finishers in the race were Steve Paschall, 23rd; John Smith, 27th; and Brian Dotseth, 28th.

The Eagles' final conference record was 5-3 good for fifth place in their respective eight team division.

Coach John Wilson had hoped to see the varsity go .500 this year, but later said "the loss of certain individuals did not help our chances."

Coach Wilson was pleased on the whole with all his boys and hopes the sophomore and junior runners will stick with cross country for future years.

The final 1972-73 cross country standing are as follows, Homewood Flossmoor, first; Reavis, second; Oak Lawn, third; Lincoln-way, fourth; Carl Sandburg, fifth; Bremen, sixth; Evergreen, seventh; and Rich East, eighth.
